

To whom it may concern, I have been an XM Radio subscriber since Dec., 2003. During that time I have come to rely on XM as my daily source for the best quality programming available on radio. They have since integrated Traffic and Weather to benefit loyal customers such as myself. It's important that XM be allowed to maintain these services because their customers count on it, and also to preserve competition in the marketplace. Since large media companies have taken over radio (stifling local competition), it is nothing but a vast programming wasteland. Everything sounds the same (music-wise.) No differentiation. Anyway, this is why myself, and many others are switching to satellite radio. Do not take away services we count on like traffic and weather. Thank you
